I doubt it will change a lot but I still believe in Santa Clause.

I do think we should send it to Peter, John, Rochelle and Teresa now hoping for a fairly quick turn-around from them. If you would like, I would be happy to distribute it, or if you would like to do so, please go ahead. However it works best for you. Also, it might be good to get Allison's input? What do you think.

BTW, Peter is doing a gis map of the various stream coverages: Medium and small Fs, Ns and all State Forest lands. Should be a good visual.

Absolutely. I think we could be even sharper in why we think the Riparian Rule is important. I also wasn't sure how much to add to the CZARA part. I'm glad you think this is a good start, and no doubt it's going to change a lot.

Jenny, this looks great! I am reviewing it to see if we might want to sharpen the edge a little.

That sounds great to me. The only thing is that I'm out all next week. But if we get comments from staff by COB Thursday, I can help out with those. Then pass things on to you to meet with management. I'm also in on Monday and Tuesday (starting April 20) to help out. I'm in an all-day webinar here in the office on April 20, but could multitask when the webinar goes over my head.

Thanks Jenny. I will take a look at the draft this afternoon. It would be good to get comments from John, Peter, Rochelle and Teresa Kubo. Teresa's connection with the BLM's Plan Revision Process, as well as her strong forestry knowledge, make her a very good reviewer. After staff review, it would be good to have Dan O, Christine and Tony review it. We could ask staff to have comments back to us no later than Thursday COB and have mgmt. review done by COB next Tuesday. That would give us a couple of days to make adjustments next week. What do you think about the whos' and whens'?

Hi Alan, here's a first cut on the BOF Riparian Rule testimony. I lifted some sentences straight from Mike Gearheard's testimony, so we may want to make changes if someone can compare the testimonies. It's pretty striking how the 2004 testimony is all still pretty relevant. We almost could've kept the same testimony!

What would you like to do for the next step? The last time we prepped for this, we also got thoughts from John Palmer, Dru, Rochelle, and Peter L. I don't think there's much of a WQS angle on this one compared to the last go around. John and Dru have some good insights on what to include in testimony as it relates to fish biology, and Rochelle and Peter are always great, so if you want them to add their thoughts, it could be useful. Maybe we can talk later. I want to grab a quick lunch before the 12:15 call which I'm debating whether I want to attend!
